1 - RULES

1.1 The Madeira Island SUP Challenge 2023 will be played in accordance with the following rules:

- a) EUROTOUR and International Surf Association rules;
- b) Approval rules and regulations of the Portuguese Surfing Federation;
- d) This notice and regulation;
- e) All athletes may be required to wear lycra or back and board adhesive provided by the Organizing Authority during competitions.
- f) Comply with the rules of the Health Contingency Plan that may be determined up to the date of the event.

2 – RULES / SPECIFICATIONS

The athlete must stand while paddling, once the race has started and until crossing the finish line.

An athlete can sit, lie down or kneel down to rest without being able to gain forward progress.

If an athlete takes more than five strokes sitting, lying or kneeling, once the race has started, the athlete may receive a 3-minute penalty, a situation that is at the discretion of the race director.

The exception to the above can only be for safety reasons that an athlete needs to avoid or may be placed in a potentially dangerous situation that would put him or others at risk of injury and/or property damage.

2.1 An athlete can only use the paddle, the waves and the wind to propel the board during the race.

External help is not allowed in the preparation of the race, or any other device that allows progress and speed, and that is not contemplated in the rules and rules for the practice of competition SUP.

Waves caused by the wake of a board or boat (draft) are considered natural conditions, unless a competitor gains an unfair advantage over the other participants.

2.2 The safety of all participants and competitions is the number one priority of the event organizers.

Participants must attend all meetings / briefings announced by the organization on the Official Notice Board (raising the "P" flag  and sound signal) to stay informed about race conditions and forecast weather conditions.

The race director will advise competitors of any hazards that may occur, and where all safety personnel will be located on the course during the pre-race briefing.

Competitors must be aware of the hand signals to be used in case someone is injured or in danger (rowing in the air, waving or standing) in need of help but is not injured (hand in the air).

All competitors must be on the lookout for anyone who may be in danger during the race, and must help or help bring the attention of the security team.

2.3. All competitors must follow the course as defined and must go around the buoys on the side defined in the competition rules.

Failure to go around a buoy as defined in the rules will result in disqualification.

When a competitor does not go around a buoy or does not go around the defined edge, he can go back and retrace the route correctly, going back, as long as he has not crossed the finish line.

2.4 Drafting/Sliding

Sliding is allowed, but only within your own class and gender. For example, in a competition, a woman cannot recruit a man and vice versa to obtain this benefit.

2.5 Lifejacket and leash rules for competitors

All Elite competitors must use the leash attached to the leg and board during the race.

Life jackets are recommended but not required.

All stand-up paddlers, adults, juniors and youth must also have an approved Personal Flotation Device (PFD, Type III) life jacket while in the water.

Leash is necessary and mandatory as the SUP board will act as a flotation device in an emergency.

Life jacket and leash requirements will strictly apply to all competitors.

2.6 Starting procedures

The start will be made at sea with the competitor on the board.

Before the start, competitors can be sitting or lying down.

After the starting signal, the competitors must be standing on the board.

2.7 Starting procedures

Water Start - Participants must be lined up perpendicular to the start line, and behind two buoys that delimit the start line.

2.8 The race director will give a countdown notice at 5min, 3min and 2min to the start.

One minute before the start of the race, the director will indicate "participants at the starting line".

All competitors may progress towards the starting line without crossing it.

The race director will give a verbal GO signal through a loudspeaker or using a horn; no other audible signal will be given before the start of the test.

All participants who cross the start line, for any reason, before the start of the race, will have a 3-minute penalty or will be disqualified if the start time exceeds 3 minutes.

If there is a false start, all participants will be called to the finish line for a new start.

If there is a second false start by a participant, the participant will receive a 3-minute penalty or direct disqualification.

2.9 Finish line at sea

The finish line will be defined and delimited in the sea between two buoys.
